KING GEORGE, OF ENGLAND, PAYS VISIT TO DESTROYER

KING GEORGE VISITS AN AMERICAN DESTROYER

As a man of long training in the navy King George of England takes the greatest interest in the visit of American torpedo boat destroyers to Great Britain and their cooperation against the Germans. Before the death of his elder brother, the Duke of Clarence, made the present king the heir to his father, the Prince of Wales, later Edward VII. George was destined for a naval career, and he spent many years learning the work and duties of a naval officer. For this reason and because the American navy is now allied with the British his recent visit to an American destroyer, as shown in the accompanying pictures, deserves notice and comment. No doubt the king shares in the favorable opinion of American ships voiced by British naval commanders.

Place Where Fight Occurred is Not Disclosed in Official Announcement. Began Fire at 7,000 Yards. Steamer Fired 25 Shots and Submarine 35 Shots.

Washington, June 6.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—A German submarine is believed to have been sunk by an armed American steamer in a running fight lasting an hour and a half, in which thirty-five shots were fired by the submarine and twenty-five by the steamer.

An official announcement by the State Department today says the steamer's final shot "apparently struck the submarine, which raised clear out of the water and stood stern end up for a few seconds. She then disappeared."

The Department's announcement says further: "The submarine was first seen at about 7,000 yards. She had a six-inch gun forward and another aft. She flew no flag."

HAIG PREPARES TO FORCE GERMANS TO QUIT LENS

British activities in the vicinity of Lens indicate that General Haig has determined to make that city and the mining district around it so uncomfortable for the Germans that they will be forced to retire from it.

While the artillery was roaring away in Belgium, giving promise of a British offensive movement there, an attack was suddenly launched last night at points from the vicinity of Lens toward the Scarpe.

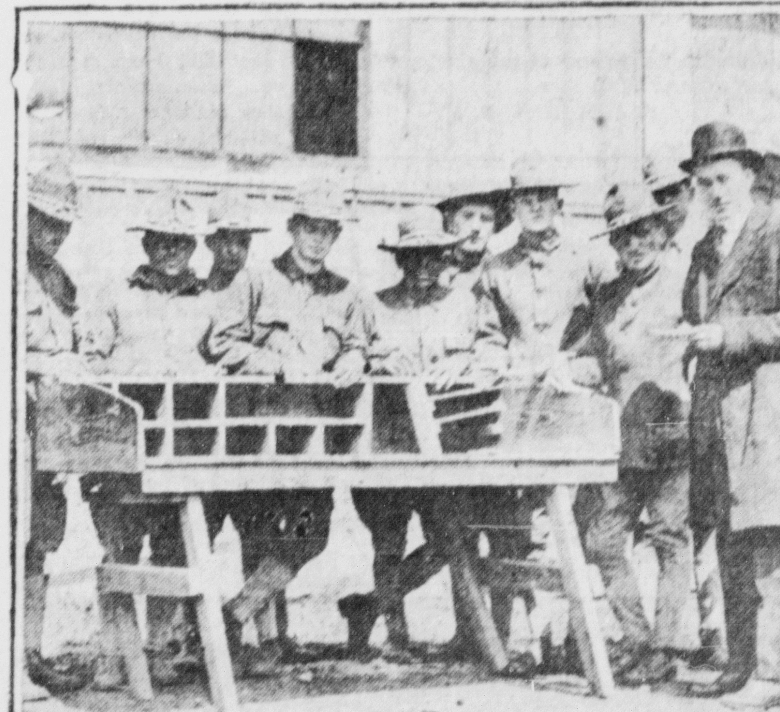

The drive was a successful one in the further process of rendering Lens uninhabitable.

The British not only progressed on the western slopes of Greenland Hill, but pushed nearer to Lens on its western outskirts.

Meanwhile, the British activity in Belgium is by no means to be lost sight of. German newspaper comment indicates that the Berlin Staff expects a British offensive movement there.

The German commentators are speculating with some concern on the heavy artillery fire that is going on, and the notable concentration of troops reported behind the Belgian front.

HOT TALK BY BRAZIL TO BERLIN

Defends Course in Seizing German Boats.

(Associated Press Cable.) Rio Janeiro, Brazil June 6.—Brazil has replied to the German note protesting against the requisitioning of German ships with a declaration that the Republic has acted within the strict limits of the law, even as interpreted by Germany.

The Brazilian reply says in part: "The utilization of German ships by Brazil follows the torpedoing of Brazilian merchant ships, and assures directly and immediately, although by force, satisfaction for the losses caused by German submarines."

"Brazil is acting lawfully, even on the basis of German law. It has taken a step which all nations take, even without abandoning its state of peace, for the sole reason of forcing an offending nation to make due reparation."

OHIO'S EXEMPT CLAIM

Officials Surprised at the Big Percentage of Exemptions.

Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., June 6.—Early figures from yesterday's registration for the selective draft in Ohio indicated that between 50 and 75 per cent of Ohio's young men claimed exemptions.

Figures were far too incomplete for registration officials to say on what grounds the greater per cent claimed their claims.

The first fourteen counties that had made complete returns, including figures on claims for exemption, had a total registration of 43,570, of which 29,168 of these had claimed exemption.

While the number of reports was small, and figures were not used as a basis by State officials in determining the possible per cent claiming exemption, the surprising percentage of between 60 and 70 was shown.

On this basis, more than 350,000 of the expected total of 550,000 registrants claimed exemption from army service.

THIRTY-NINE COUNTIES. Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., June 6.—Thirty-nine counties of Ohio had completed their registration count and sent official figures to State Headquarters here this afternoon.

The total for the thirty-nine counties, none of which included the larger counties, was 167,904.

Ohio's registration will run a few months less than 570,000. This is more than 80,000 greater than earlier estimates made by the War Department.

Grounding up of "slackers" will be in many of the cities today. Police authorities, sheriffs, constables and all other officers have the authority to stop men they believe should have registered and demand that their certificate of registration be examined in proof that they are not "slackers."

Persons arrested by the police will be turned over to the federal authorities, it was stated.

FAYETTE COUNTY HAS 1576 MEN REGISTERED FOR WAR

Fayette First County in State to Report Number of Conscripts. Many Claim Exemption—First Draft Will be Approximately 160 Men and Will be Made Next Month—576 Register in Washington.

Fayette county has 1576 men eligible to selective draft.

At 9:15 o'clock Tuesday night Chief Deputy J. D. Post, of the Deputy State Board of Supervisors of Election of Fayette County had completed returns of the number registering in Fayette county, and a few minutes later a telegram had been forwarded to Columbus giving the figures, and making Fayette county one of the first, if not the first county in the state to be heard from. All registrars acted promptly immediately after closing of the booths and telephoned their figures at once.

Of the total number registering in Fayette county, 576 registered in this city.

Not a single thing marred the day, with the exception of the disgraceful episode at Buena Vista when Registrar Fred Clark was arrested for being intoxicated.

Early Wednesday morning the registrars from all over the county assembled at the Board of Elections office in the courthouse to make their report and turn over the cards to Chief Deputy J. D. Post.

In addition to receiving the cards and reports, the work of compiling a complete list of those who registered, was taken up at once.

So far as known no one attempted to evade registration, but careful inquiry will be made into each precinct of the city and county, and citizens are requested to unite in ferreting out any who shirked their duty in an attempt to evade military service.

No draft from the list of those who registered will be made before early in July, it is believed, and at that time the work will be taken up throughout the land, and the first number to be called to military duty will be drawn. Fayette's quota for the first draft will be approximately 160 men, and to obtain these 160 it will probably be necessary to cite 200 to 400 for examination.

Following is the number registering in each precinct in the county:

First Ward, A—51; First Ward, B—53; First Ward, C—67; Second Ward, A—80; Second Ward, B—75; Third Ward, A—46; Third Ward, B—55; Fourth Ward, A—63; Fourth Ward, B—55; Concord Twp.—44; Green Twp.—63; Jasper Twp.—84; Milledgeville—21; Octa—5; Jefferson Twp. ELKS BANQUET BROTHERS WHO ANSWER CALL Feasting at the Elks' Hall Follows Big Patriotic Parade—Younger Brothers Are Escorted to Their Registering Places.

The members of Washington Lodge B. P. O. Elks were responsible for the most patriotic demonstration that occurred in this city on Registration day.

At four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Elks from the city and all over the county, who gathered together for the occasion were mobilized at the lodge rooms and the big parade, headed by Jess W. Smith, R. R. Kibler, Harry Brown, M. S. Daugherty and the Washington band, started the line of march around to the various polling places where members of their order of military age registered for service. Nearly one hundred older Elks marched in line and twenty-four of their honor guests marched in a body in the rear. Mr. D. H. VanWinkle carried the flag, and Mr. C. A. Gossard distributed flags to the Brothers who joined the ranks at points in the line of march.

The banquet that followed was one of the most inspiring social sessions ever held by the local lodge. Two hundred and twenty-five Brothers were seated about the seventeen banquet tables that had been spread in the ball room. Flags were flying and the decoration scheme was carried out in the national colors, red, white and blue carnations being used effectively.

Invocation was pronounced by Rev. Barre.

Half portions of fried spring chicken with mashed potatoes and cream gravy, whole tomatoes with mayonaisse dressing, and head lettuce salad with French dressing, were the principal components of the sumptuous dinner. Informal toasts followed.

Members of the social session committee who had the arrangements in charge were Messrs. George Sunkle, F. M. McCoy, D. H. Barchet and Dr. Harry Roberts.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF SAMUEL JOHNSTON

The funeral services of Samuel Johnston were held in the Christian Union Church at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in the presence of a large gathering of friends, one among the largest funerals ever held in the chapel.

Reverend G. C. McKibben of the Christian Union Church delivered the funeral sermon, paying high tribute to the departed husband and father. Reverend H. S. Leath and J. H. McKibben assisted him in the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reno, Mr. Golden Reno, Miss Mary Reno and Mrs. McKibben sang "Beyond the Pearly Gates" and "Rock of Ages" with touching paths.

The pallbearers were business associates and close friends of Mr. Johnston: Messrs. P. F. Ortman, M. E. Hitchcock, Valentine Hoppes, E. A. Keaton, Chas. Dickerson and H. Reno.

The floral tributes were beautiful and in great abundance. The different pieces were presented by the following: wreaths from the Ortman Motor Car Company from the employees of the Ortman Company and from James W. Jones and family; a floral wheel from the wife and children sprays from the Fish and Game Protective Association, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey, Dr. and Mrs. Moon, The Pennsylvania Rubber Company, Henry Jones, Edward and William Johnston, brothers, Cabbage family, Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson, The Christian Union Church, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reno, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kelligan, J. W. Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Hoppes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howat and Jean, Miss Margaret Mark and Mr. Ralph Mayer and Mrs. A. A. Hyer.

Relatives and friends from out of town in attendance were the two brothers, Mr. Edward Johnston of Kankakee, Ill., and Mr. William Johnston of Fowler, Ind.; the mother-in-law, Mrs. M. A. Herdman, and brothers, U. G. Herdman and Harry Herdman of Morgantown, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones and family of Bainbridge; and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kelligan of Morgantown, Ohio.

The interment was made in the Washington cemetery.

OBITUARY
Samuel, son of George and Mary Johnston, was born in Springfield,

Ohio November 20th 1867, departed this life in the Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus, June 3rd 1917, aged 49 years, 6 months and 17 days. He was united in marriage to Hattie E. Herdman, August 16th, 1893. To this union three children were born, two sons, James and Robert, and one daughter, Mrs. Roy Reno, all of Washington, C. H., Ohio.

He leaves to mourn his demise a devoted wife, two sons, one daughter, two brothers—Edward of Illinois and William of Indiana, many relatives and a wide circle of friends, all of whom feel keenly their great loss sustained by his demise.

The greater part of his life was spent in agricultural pursuits in Pike County, until about seven years ago with his family he removed to Washington, C. H., since which he has been engaged in the mercantile and salesmanship business, being successful in the same.

In business, his principles were, honesty and integrity. In the home, he was a good husband, a devoted father, and his hearthstone always burned bright with the fires of friendship to all. As a neighbor, he could hardly be excelled, whether for sacrifice or service.

Husband, Father, Brother and Friend. Reluctant, we bid thee Adieu; But through all the years we may have to spend,

We promise, to remember you.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness, sympathy and service during the illness and death of our father and husband, Samuel Johnston; also for the floral offerings, the officiating ministers, Undertaker McCoy, the Ortman Motor Co., and others who so faithfully stood by us in our sad trial.

The Boy on the Farm

There has been a great deal said and written in the way of advice about dealing with the developing boy—the boy who is just turning into manhood's vast estate. Well that's to be expected because the boy is an inexhaustible subject—he has so many possibilities and he is such an intricate problem and so easy to "figure out" erroneously. It's no wonder people try and try and will keep on trying to solve the boy problem.

For some years past the problem of how to keep the boy on the farm has been the one big subject of discussion because if that problem can be solved correctly it means so much to the nation and so much to the boy too.

The farm today offers the very best field of opportunity to the boy but the difficulty is to get the boy to look at it that way.

One man of experience has ventured the assertion that the boy is not given enough liberty on the farm; not enough chance to follow his own inclination, to experiment and try things out for himself.

There is a great deal of force in the suggestion too. No boy is content, if he is ambitious, and every normal boy is ambitious, to follow in the rut made by his ancestors. He wants to do something on his own account. As a general thing the farmer doesn't let his boy follow his own inclination enough. He doesn't let him make mistakes and find out by experience. That's what the boy likes to do and that's what the great big heartless city lets him do.

Perhaps that's the reason he goes to the city and leaves the farm.

What a growing, developing and ambitious boy likes is the chance to stretch, physically and mentally.

Secretary McAdoo's Prediction

The predictions of Secretary McAdoo as to the business future of the nation are exceedingly encouraging and should serve, coming from so eminent an authority as the Secretary of the Treasury, to allay the fears and dispel the pessimism of the few who fear we are facing business stagnation.

In addition to the wonderful stimulation in our domestic trade which must, of necessity, come from the increased demands of the war, Secretary McAdoo estimates that our allies, among the warring nations, will spend for American products and American manufactured articles, ten billion dollars.

That almost incomprehensible sum of money flowing into the channels of American trade and business is, in itself, enough to guarantee a wonderful era of prosperity to every one who produces or markets.

Our own common sense and experience teaches us that there never has been any real basis for alarm over the business outlook. The few who began to curtail their activities and to hoard their possessions were only the "panicky" kind of folks or those who, surfeited with the world's best things, launched ill advised conservancy movements, far more disastrous than beneficial, more as a fad and fancy than as a well considered and intelligent effort to assist. Nearly all of the few have now seen their error and are returning to normal.

Fortunately the business of the nation was too immense and too insistent in its requirements to be affected by those ill advised and minature panics.

Round Up the Sluggards

Mr. Troops in charge of the local office of the Fayette-Clinton employment bureau has been doing some excellent work in placing a number of unemployed men where they can be of benefit to themselves, to their employers and to the community.

On Monday of this week twenty-one men were "placed" at work on farms. That means that twenty-one men in a single day became producers and that there were, in a way, twenty-one less consumers. All of which would make, as it is figured in political returns, a gain of forty-two for the nation.

The matter we want to direct attention to is this—Mr. Troops and his assistants and superiors can't do all of this work. They can do a great deal that's true. They have proven capacity by results accomplished.

With the help of the officials especially in the municipalities of the district, large and small, they could do a great deal more.

The idlers and the loafers—the able bodied men who loiter around the street corners and others public places with no aim in life—scores of them—right here in Washington, should be registered by the authorities and made to work.

Police officers know all these idlers and they should check them up and hand in their names to the employment bureau.

This is no time for idlers and the officers who permit able bodied men to loaf on the streets, day in and day out, are equally culpable. They are idlers themselves if they don't do their duty and round up the loafers.

Poetry For Today

THE CALL OF THE FARM
Long have you worked in the grimy mills,
Long have you toiled in store and shop;
Going the gait that blights and kills,
With never an hour to stay or stop.
Son of the farm, come back to her now;
A brish-smoke odor is in the air;
The redbreast follows behind the plow,
And sweet the savor of country fare.

Don't you remember the cedar lane,
And hedge where the brown thrush built her nest?
Come and visit these haunts again;
Oh, come and loaf in the shade, and rest!

Come; let the pallor and bleach of Town
Turn in the sun to wholesome tan
Once more, hearty and hale and brown,
Feel and look like a countryman.

A bed in the farmhouse waits you now;
There's an extra horse in the stable too.
And in the barn is an extra plow,
And we have happiest work to do.

Not one of us here is very poor;
Not one has splendor and wealth and pride;
And every home has an open door
And honest friendliness inside.

The folks will be glad to shake your hand,
And glad to hear what you have to tell
About the people in cities, and
The wondrous things that there befall.

We miss you more than you know,
My lad;
And after supper, when work is done,
We sit and wish for you awful bad!
Come back; come back to the farm
My son.
—Thomas Lomax Hunter.

CONFESSED ABDUCTION CONSPIRACY

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Springfield, Mo., June 6.—Plans to abduct a St. Louis manufacturer of munitions, as a part of a German conspiracy to block the shipment of such supplies, were confessed here today to Paul O'Day, prosecuting attorney, by C. J. Piersol, one of the six men held in connection with the disappearance of Lloyd Keet, 14 months-old son of J. Holland Keet, wealthy banker. Mr. O'Day announced the confession.

IMPRACTICAL

The plan was given up as impractical, Piersol said.
Authorities previously had announced that the six arrested persons had confessed to other plots, including a plan to abduct and hold for ransom C. A. Clement, a Springfield jeweler. Interest today centered in Piersol's report of the Keet baby.
He was accompanied by one of the alleged plotters and hoped to return the baby to its parents tonight.

COMPILING NATIONAL RETURNS

May Be Late Today Before Full Returns Are Taken.

One More Day Given Liberal Policy.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, June 6.—Provost Marshal General Crowder announced this morning that, inasmuch as all registrars had been given until noon today to make up their reports, no entirely complete returns for the registration could be expected until late today.

The Provost Marshal General also notified all governors that he had interpreted the law to permit any who, in good faith, failed to register yesterday to do so today, and announced that a liberal policy would be pursued to make the registration complete.

Wisconsin's total registration was estimated by Governor Phillip at 218,700. This was the first state to report. Census estimates placed Wisconsin's estimated registration at 229,597.

Governor Edge of New Jersey reported registration returns practically completed, showing 261,243. The census estimates for New Jersey were 309,563.

Telegraphic reports to the Department of Justice from widely separated sections of the country continue to show a general absence of trouble over registration and a thorough response to the provisions of the conscription law.

The reports indicated that estimates of registration had been largely exceeded in many states.

The United States District Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois reported an estimated return for Chicago largely in excess of the estimate.

PLATTSBURGERS LEARN HOW BRITISH USE BAYONETS

At Plattsburg instructors are showing their companies the thrusts and parries used by the British. The men are divided into groups to attack dummies rigged up on sticks or hanging from eaves of company barracks. The dummies are of varying construction, most of them being burlap bags filled with sand and boards. The boards are bones to give more reality to the practice, and there is grave danger of a man breaking his bayonet on them if he doesn't use his weapon properly. Each man starts at a walk about twenty feet away from the dummy, makes a feint, jabs the

REGISTRAR HAS VERY CLOSE CALL FOR HIS OFFENSE

Village Blacksmith at Buena Vista, Intoxicated While Serving as Registrar, Placed Under Arrest and Federal Authorities Take Hand in Case.

When Fred Clark, 40, village blacksmith at Buena Vista became intoxicated while serving as registrar at Buena Vista, Tuesday, he thereby committed an act which may land him in Federal prison, and which already has elicited from the Governor of Ohio orders to hold him until further orders, and like orders from United States District Attorney Stewart S. Bollin.

Under the military law governing the conduct of registration officials, such an offense is punishable with one year in Federal prison.

Chief Deputy J. D. Post received word shortly after noon Tuesday that Clark was intoxicated and causing considerable confusion about the registration place, insisting on doing all of the work himself and doing it in a very jumbled manner.

Sometime afterward, after a little investigation, George Anders, constable of Green township, was instructed to place Clark under arrest and bring him into this city.

Constable Anders arrested Clark and brought him to the county jail, where he was locked up.

Frank Theobald, of Buena Vista, was sworn in by telephone and appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the arrest of Clark.

United States District Attorney Bollin was communicated with and he ordered the man held until further instructions were received. A short time afterward Sheriff Jones received a telegram from Governor Cox, stating that he understood a registrar had been arrested while intoxicated, and ordering the man's imprisonment until further orders.

It developed that Clark had failed to properly discharge his duty while under the influence of liquor, and created some confusion about the registration booth, and had so jumbled his work that it was necessary to do part of it over.

When acquainted with the situation Chief Deputy Post ordered every effort made to get the registration cards and receipt cards properly straightened out, and after considerable work on the part of the registrars, it is believed this would be accomplished.

Clark was held in the county jail until Wednesday morning, when Chief Deputy Post assumed the responsibility of releasing the man without bond, allowing him to go upon his promise to remain at home and not to leave the community, also to respond promptly when called.

It is also possible that if the person who sold him the whiskey is located, he may be made a party to the prosecution.

To Get Off Easy
About noon, Wednesday, J. D. Post had word from U. S. District Attorney Bollin urging immediate prosecution of Clark under the state law, or be subject to indictment under the federal law by the Federal grand jury.

Mr. Post prepared an affidavit under the state law and this was signed by H. E. Daugherty and filed before Justice T. N. Craig. Clark was notified to appear Wednesday afternoon.

The fine in such instances is $5 and the costs. Whether the Federal grand jury will act, is not known.

WANT CHANGES IN WARTAX BILL

(By American Press)
Washington, June 6.—Demands from business interests for changes are making the senate finance committee's task of redrafting the house war tax bill increasingly difficult as the work nears a close.

"Tremendous pressure is being brought to bear," said Senator Lodge, a Republican member of the committee. "Hundreds of telegrams and letters are received daily. A score of lobbyists also are personally active." The committee plans to complete the bill by Friday. Work went forward while both houses of congress were in recess, and liquor and tobacco taxes finally were dropped.

Revenues of $151,000,000 from liquors, including beer, and about $68,000,000 from tobacco products, estimated from the house rates, are expected to show but slight reduction by the committee's revision, despite its decision to place prohibitive taxes on grain used in distilling whiskey and other spirits. Doubled taxes on beer were not changed.

A new federal license tax on automobiles of 1 per cent of their original selling price, to be paid by owners, is being considered by the committee, although it virtually decided several days ago to establish taxes ranging from $7.50 to $25 a car. Senator La Follette proposed the substitute tax, which would greatly decrease revenues estimated from motor cars.

Taxation of newspapers, magazines and other publications also was reopened when several members of the committee informally received a delegation of Pittsburgh newspaper publishers, headed by former Senator Oliver, who urged adoption of the house plan, providing for increase of second-class postage rates. The committee took under advisement the arguments made by Pittsburgh publishers against the proposed substitute tax of 2 per cent upon publishers' advertising receipts.

In concluding work on the tobacco schedule the committee decided that the increased taxes, previously announced, on cigars and cigarettes should become effective within ten days after passage of the bill instead of after thirty days, as proposed in the house measure. It also was decided to exempt from taxes on cigar papers all packages of less than twenty-five sheets, the size of free packages generally distributed with tobacco.

Old Folks Saved From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass. In her 87th year, says: "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case."
Mr. Sam A. Hoover, High Point, N. C., writes: "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night, and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken nothing else."
Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., says: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years. I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 61 years of age, I feel like a 35-year-old girl."
Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and up-building, and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.

REPORTS SHOW FULL TURNOUT

(By American Press)

Washington, June 6.—More than 10,000,000 young Americans enrolled themselves yesterday for war service. The manhood of the nation obeyed the president's call and volunteered in mass, setting at naught all the schemes and plottings of German sympathizers and the few cranks who have agitated against registration.

It remains but to select the men who are to go to the front. From virtually every state reassuring messages came to Brigadier General Crowder, provost marshal general, federal supervising officer of the great enterprise.

While no complete returns from any state are available at this hour, the governors were unanimous in reporting that complete quietude prevailed throughout the day and that a full registration was indicated. In some precincts the late comers forced officials to keep the polls open until long after the closing hour set in the regulations. General Crowder authorized them to keep open as long as men wished to enroll themselves.

The reports, showing a full turnout all over the country, indicated that the estimates of the census bureau as to the number of men within the specified age limits would be verified by the count. Wherever partial figures were available the estimates checked closely.

A feature of the registration was the refusal of hundreds of thousands of men to make any reply to the question, "Do you claim exemption?"

Even men who reported that they had dependent families; men with obvious physical disabilities and those whose occupations are certain to keep them at home declined to make such a claim.

With the closing of each registration precinct officials went at once to the task of sorting and classifying the cards. No figures for any state will come to Washington until every precinct has reported.

General Crowder is hopeful that another thirty-six hours will see the full record of the country on his desk.

There remain several supplementary steps to be taken. The registration included only continental United States. Alaska and Hawaii will record their fighting men on dates to be set later and the roll of Americans now abroad who are besieging consulates all around the world for registration cards will add to the great list. The state department was called upon for additional cards by the thousand.

General Crowder made it clear that registration acted as a bar against no man who wished to enlist in the army or navy. Any man who enrolled himself yesterday, but whose patriotic impulse bids him to step into the ranks now will pass from the registration lists automatically. A man may take his choice as to the part of the great national army in which he will wear, regulars, national guard, or selective army.

Dayton Man Says Trouble He Formerly Had After Meals Is Gone Since Tanlac Fixed Up His Stomach.

"Tanlac has done me more good than I thought it possible for any medicine to do. I think it's great and when a man has taken medicines almost constantly for ten years like I have, he'd ought to be a pretty good judge of a preparation," said Peter Nieley, 27 North Jefferson street, Dayton, O.

"Yes, for ten years I've been having trouble with my stomach. I felt badly about all the time. Gas would form on my stomach after eating and make me feel distressed. I had heartburn about all the time. There were mighty few things that I could eat without a lot of trouble afterward."

"I couldn't sleep soundly at night, either, and got very little rest. Several times each day I'd get so I felt weak and dizzy."

"I got so bad I finally went to a hospital. That helped some but in a few days after I left the hospital I was back where I was before, having the same old trouble."

"Well, I've taken five bottles of Tanlac now and I'm not only able to eat anything I want and plenty of it without trouble afterward, but I've gone back to my work. For two weeks now I haven't had a single minute's worry from my stomach. I'm glad to recommend Tanlac for others."

If you are not feeling right get Tanlac today at Blackmer & Tanquary's drug store, Frank Christopher's drug store, or C. S. Haver's drug store.

IMPORTANT FARM NOTES

Last Chance To Join Contest.

June 15 is the latest date for enrolling in the first annual Men's 10-acre Corn Contest conducted by the Ohio State University. The winner in the state contest will be awarded a grand championship cup. The winner in each of the four districts will be awarded a district championship cup, and the winner in each county in the state will receive a gold medal. In addition, those producing 100 bushels of corn on their 10-acre tract will be presented with medals and will be elected to membership in "The 100-Bushel Corn Club, of Ohio."

The contest is made as simple in character as possible and is arranged so as not to interfere with regular farm work.

Further information may be had of W. E. Hanger, Ohio State University, Columbus.

Buckwheat.

Buckwheat may be planted any time up to July 15, but not later. It may not only be used to advantage following a failure of winter wheat but may be planted after an early potato or hay crop. It is also an aid to honey production. The Japanese and Silver Hull are good varieties. The rate of seeding is three to five pecks per acre. The planting is done with an ordinary grain drill, but care should be taken to see that the seed is drilled only deep enough to be covered. The crop may be cut in September. An average yield is from 16 to 20 bushels per acre.—W. E. Hanger, College of Agriculture.

Sour Milk for Chicks.

Milk is of great value in feeding chicks. Sour milk is preferable to sweet milk. In addition to being a good food for chicks, milk has a decidedly beneficial effect on their digestive system. It has considerable value as a preventive of disease. Porcelain-lined or granite pans should be used for the milk. They should be washed and scalded daily. Care should be taken to have the milk at about the same degree of acidity each day. The little chicks should have sour milk to drink as soon as they are placed in the brooder.

Lead For Potato Bugs.

A good spray for potato bugs consists of a mixture of two ounces of arsenate of lead to one gallon of water, according to the College of Agriculture. The arsenate of lead should be well dissolved in a small quantity of water before being diluted. Enough of the solution to spray two-thirds of an acre can be made from six pounds of arsenate of lead and 50 gallons of water. This spray sticks to the plants better than Paris Green and does not burn them as Paris Green sometimes does.

Buy Canning Supplies Early.

With the enormous increase in the production of fruits and vegetables this year, it is declared to be a matter of common foresight to buy canning supplies early. Shortage of different supplies is frequent during normal canning seasons, and it is said that the shortage may be more acute this year on account of the difficulty of transportation.

NEAR GOAL

(By American Press)

Washington, June 6.—Regular army recruiting in Ohio established a new daily record yesterday when 384 men were accepted at the various recruiting stations, the war department announced. The daily record for the nation also was smashed, with the acceptance of 4,201 men, as against an average daily figure of 1,500 since April 1.

The latest results bring the total of war volunteers enlisted for the regulars since April 1 up to 101,493, leaving less than 83,000 men to be obtained to fill the army to full authorized war strength of approximately 300,000.

Incomplete recruiting returns for the national guard during the last ten days of May show a substantial gain, particularly among regiments not in the federal service. A net increase of 15,000 to 20,000 men is indicated.
